

QUALITY POLICY STATEMENT

Superform is a manufacturer of super-plastically formed sheet Aluminium components based in Worcester supplying to the aerospace, automotive, rail, medical and commercial markets.

The Company has developed its expertise since its establishment in 1974 and will provide the highest level of performance, product quality and customer service by the innovative use and advancement of its human, technical and material resources in order to increase revenue and profitability and market share in growing markets.

The objectives of this company are set out in the Business Plan and encourage a continuous improvement culture to monitor and measure our progress and achieve our targeted objectives.

The management team commits their full support to comply with customer, legal and regulatory requirements and operate to internal Business Management Systems which are nationally and internationally recognised.

We aim to continually improve the service and products we provide by driving innovation based upon efficient business processes, well-defined measurements, best practices, and customer feedback. We will develop staff competencies, creativity, empowerment and accountability through appropriate training and show strong management involvement and commitment to achieve our goals. Only by providing an outstanding service and product quality will we achieve our aims of long term success and sustained improvements.

Simon Tarmey
Managing Director